Professor Scott Noegel Delivers U-Wisconsin-Milwaukee Commencement Address

Professor Scott Noegel was awarded with an Honorary Ph.D. in Letters (2016) from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee for “significant contributions in the field of Ancient and Near Eastern Languages and Cultures” and for his “extraordinary reputation as a highly distinguished scholar, a respected artist, and community supporter.” This was the first honorary Ph.D. given by the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee to any of its alumni.

Professor Noegel was also honored by being offered to deliver the graduation commencement speech that year.

You can watch the award ceremony and commencement address at http://uwm.edu/streamingvideo/commencements/

To view Professor Noegel's portion of the ceremony go to the black ceremony at the top and skip ahead to 1:25:25

People Involved: Scott Noegel

News Category: Faculty and Staff, Honors and Awards

Related Fields: Biblical Hebrew

Department of Near Eastern Languages & Civilization
University of Washington
Denny Hall 220-D
Box 353120
Seattle, WA 98195-3120